

ARREST FORMER POLICE OFFICER

A Former Police Captain Under Mayor Ames of Minneapolis, Arrested by Sheriff Appleby,

HELD ON WARRANT

Cannot Be Seen at the Jail But Appleby Tells Story of Two Indictments.

Sheriff Appleby received a telegram last night from Sheriff J. W. Dreger of Hennepin county, Minnesota, to arrest and hold at all hazard Charles R. Hill, former police captain of Minneapolis under the regime of Mayor Ames, now living at Milton Junction.

At Work in Corn
Sheriff Appleby visited Milton Junction at six o'clock this morning and found Mr. Hill cutting corn on his thirteen-acre farm, about a mile from the town, where with his wife and three children he has been living for the past year. When told that he was wanted in Minneapolis on two warrants, the former police captain was very much agitated but he made ready to accompany Sheriff Appleby to this city without delay.

Nature of Charge

The nature of the charges against him is not known but they are undoubtedly concerned with the scandals that made Mayor Ames and his brother, Chief of Police Fred Ames, fugitives from justice. He says that he never wronged any one in his life, though he intimates that he may have at times been the recipient of envelopes from people desiring privileges for lawful enterprises.

Was Not Known

Little was known of the man by his neighbors when he first appeared in Rock county about a year ago. He was engaged for a time in making atlases of different towns in the county and in this work Sheriff Appleby became well acquainted with him. The latter, however, never entertained an idea that he was the person referred to in the telegram received last night.

History of Man

Charles R. Hill, according to his story, was police captain in Minneapolis about fifteen years ago. He gave up the position and removed to this section of Wisconsin. About two years and a half ago Ames became mayor and sent for him to come back and take the captaincy. He had held this office for something over a year when the scandals came to light and Ames fled to the east.

Did Not Fly

Hill perceived that he was soon to lose his position and resigned. He did not, however, leave Minneapolis. Throughout the session of the grand jury which indicted Mayor Ames, his brother, and other high officials, Hill remained in the city. Several attempts to indict him for taking bribes failed and with the closing of the jury's sitting he withdrew to Rock county, Wisconsin.

Fears a Heavy Sentence

Though Mr. Hill says that he has never wronged a fellow man, he does not conceal the fact that he fears the worst in Minneapolis. The political powers in control are determined to punish every man who was identified with the Ames regime and officials who were under him there are already serving long sentences for small offenses.

Is Willing to Go

The leave-taking with his family at the farm was a touching and pitiful scene. Though he expects that punishment will be meted out to him, Hill is willing to go. He says that he wishes to have it over with, and that the Minneapolis sheriff need not have gone to the trouble of securing requisition papers. He asked Sheriff Appleby to lend word that he would go willingly without papers. Sheriff Dreger is expected tomorrow morning.

Pleasing Personality

The former police captain has a very pleasing personality and those who knew him at all in this region, were his friends. Though he must sleep at the jail tonight he will do so rather as a guest of Sheriff Appleby than as a prisoner.

ILLINOIS CORN SHOWS DECIDED IMPROVEMENT

Excellent Crop in Prospect For All But the Extreme Southern Section of the State.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 16.—William G. Burns, director of the Illinois section of the weather bureau of the department of agriculture, has issued the following bulletin, covering conditions existing in the state the last week: The drought in the extreme southern counties was practically unbroken during the week. The distribution of rainfall varied from light, scattered showers in the southern district to copious rains in the extreme northern portion of the state. The mean temperature was slightly above normal, but the daily range was great and the minimum temperatures were rather low.

"A general and decided improvement in the condition of corn is reported. While its advancement was somewhat slow in a few localities of the northern district, owing to cool nights and heavy rainfall and it suffered from lack of moisture in the extreme southern portion, it is believed by a great majority of correspondents that an excellent crop is in prospect in all but the extreme southern portion of the state if killing frost does not occur before Oct. 1. Some fields have reached maturity in the southern portion and cutting has begun in a few places.

"The yield of broomcorn and of cowpeas is generally disappointing. Potatoes range from poor to fair and there is some complaint of rotting in the northern district.

"Vineyards are yielding well, and the quality of the grapes is excellent. Apples continue to drop badly, and the outlook is for a very poor crop."

ALCOHOL PLAYS HAVOC

A Resident of Darien Takes Too Much of the White Light.

At 8:30 last night a telephone message was received at the sheriff's office from Robert Moore at Darien informing the officer that an intoxicated Swede by the name of Gus Farrin was terrorizing the neighborhood and threatening to kill the inhabitants.

Some time later in the evening, the big fellow—a six-footer—led with huge rope cables and straps was unloaded at the jail. By that time he had become sober and was smiling sheepishly.

Farrin has been in this country about five months. He had been working for Robert Moore but decided to quit yesterday morning. He wanted his pay, but Mr. Moore agreed to give it to him last evening. So Gus went to the nearest tavern and filled up on pure alcohol.

Frank Pearson of Fulton visited in the city yesterday.

STORM UPSETS CAGES UNDER CIRCUS TENT

Audience Is Thrown Into Panic by Announcement That the Lions Have Broken Loose.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 16.—With cages of wild animals tumbling topsy-turvy, lions roaring, elephants trampling frantically about, the canvas flying from over their heads, thunder crashing, and rain falling in sheets, thousands of people rushed in wild panic for the entrance of the big tent in which a menagerie was being exhibited at the East St. Louis carnival.

Cries that the lions had broken from their cages added to the crowd's terror, and for a time it seemed certain that many must be injured in the stampede. The roaring of the beasts was drowned by the shrieks of women, and it was only by shouting through megaphones that the animals were all securely confined that a semblance of order was restored by the management of the show.

In St. Louis the storm did considerable damage, amounting almost to a cloudburst on the South Side, where streets, sewers and basements were flooded and boats were floated in some principal thoroughfares. Street car traffic to Jefferson barracks and on the lower Broadway extension was discontinued for an hour or more by reason of the tracks being covered with mud and water. Three houses on Chouteau avenue were struck by lightning. Much terror was caused by the thunder bolts and several small fires occurred.

PROBE POSTAL FRAUD CASES

The Federal Grand Jury at Washington Expected To Return Many Indictments Soon.

FORMER OFFICIAL

Considerable Evidence Has Already Been Handed to the Jury To Consider.

Washington, Sept. 16.—The federal grand jury investigating the postoffice cases took up the affairs of a former assistant attorney general, who at one time was postmaster general. Considerable evidence was submitted by postoffice inspectors and others. This case is connected with a former law clerk. Among the witnesses heard in these cases was Manager Bowman of the Southern Mutual Investment association. Early action is expected in both cases.

Await Indictments.

A half dozen additional indictments are expected. The grand jury now has every case before it that is expected to figure in the postal prosecutions and it is expected that it will finish all the cases by the close of this month.

Replying to the subpoena of George W. Beavers, whose hearing began in New York on the Brooklyn indictment, the postmaster general said, aside from the law in the case, it was a physical impossibility to produce the records upon which the indictment was founded, as demanded by the subpoena. These papers are in constant use in connection with the investigation of the postal service and are scattered throughout the country in the hands of the inspectors.

Beavers Has Hearing.

The preliminary examination of Beavers attracted little attention, chief interest centering in the attempt by his counsel to have the proceedings dismissed on the grounds that the facts as alleged in the complaint were insufficient and that no proof had been submitted in support of the indictment. Commissioner Hitchcock said he considered the certified copy of the indictment was sufficient proof of the crime upon which to proceed, but adjourned the hearing to give counsel time to offer decisions in support of the contention. The arraignment of McGlehan and Huntington was adjourned until Sept. 28.

Postoffice authorities have deferred arresting Postal Inspector James W. Erwin, now in San Francisco. Erwin announces his readiness to answer a summons at any time and has already arranged for bonds.

W. Ross at Point of Death: Completely paralyzed, unable to move hand or foot, speechless and without nourishment, William Ross continues at the point of death.

Dr. Woods, the attending physician, has almost given up all hope although Mr. Ross may live for several days, the chances for his ultimate recovery are extremely slight.

Plan Entertainment: Next Tuesday evening the concert to be given for the benefit of the piano fund will be held at the First Methodist church. A program of special interest, because of being made up of local talent is now in course of construction. Among the numbers that have been arranged for are selections by the mandolin club, orchestra, singing by Professor Taylor and the quartette which has been organized recently.

Baltimore American: While some of the Indian officials are accused of neglecting their work, most of them would have no trouble proving their innocence on a charge of neglecting to work the red man.

AWFUL STORM ON

Atlantic Coast Is Swept by a Fierce Gale—Fear Felt for All Vessels at Sea and Along the Coast—Loss of Life Is Expected from Hurricanes.

(Special by Scripps-Mellae.)
New York, Sept. 16.—A hurricane accompanied by a terrific rain struck this city shortly before noon today. Up to noon no serious accident was reported, but the suburbs suffered damage. Telegraph wires were blown down in all directions. Walking in streets was made dangerous by falling signs. A terrifying feature of the storm was the intense darkness. The yacht Sylph with Roosevelt aboard was due at noon, but at one o'clock had not appeared. It is probable that she put in at some haven to wait until the worst of the storm was over.

At Camden
(Special by Scripps-Mellae.)
Camden, N. J., Sept. 16.—A hurricane struck Atlantic City this morning, damaging property to the extent of nearly a million dollars. Piers were washed away, pavilions damaged and hotels unroofed.

At Philadelphia

CAUSTIC WORDS BY ZENO HOST

THE INSURANCE COMMISSIONER
STATES HIS OPINIONS FREELY.

MAKES HIS ANNUAL REPORT

Controversy Over Equitable Company's Case is Chief Cause for Discussion.

Insurance Commissioner Host in his annual report on the business of life and casualty insurance companies in Wisconsin, discusses the distribution of surplus, or, as he in one place calls it, accumulation in over-payments. The discussion is based on the suit brought to compel the Equitable Life to distribute its surplus, and after reviewing this case, and the law, which he holds makes the distribution mandatory, the commissioner says:

"True, the enforcement of a mandatory construction of section 1,352 will revolutionize the business methods of many companies, but for the better. The withholding of over-payments and deferring distribution of surplus for long periods has not been of benefit to the policy holders nor to the business of life insurance. It has created extravagant management and expenditures; it has raised commissions from 15 per cent to 25 per cent to 75 per cent and 100 per cent of the first year's premium; it has made the old policy holder bear the burden of the new.

Its Abuses
"It has given birth to the first year term insurance" provision in the policies of so many of the new and younger companies, so that the whole of the first year's premium, less the actual cost of mortality, may be used to meet the aggravated and extravagant competition of the deferred dividend company; it has promoted rebating, twisting and lapse; it has been the source of forfeiture and confiscation; it has robbed thousands of their over-payments, and is today withholding something like $12,000,000 from the policy holders of Wisconsin.

Will Revolutionize
A mandatory construction will revolutionize all this, but in its place will come a short period of accounting to the policy holder, which of itself will mean economy of management; in place of the race for business and largest amount of insurance written will come competition to show the best results to the policy-holder and decrease the cost of insurance; it will save policies from lapse and minimize the evils of rebating and misrepresentation."

Continuing he says regarding the Equitable:
"It certainly looks like private liberality when the officers of a company like the Equitable present to six hundred employees, policies of insurance, with the first annual premium paid out of the funds of the company, and repeat the same liberality, by a presentation to several hundred new agents, as has been widely advertised in insurance journals.

"It surely never was the purpose of the investment law of any state, that a life insurance company should conduct a restaurant, or furnish gift furniture to its officers, and that the proper adjunct of such a company's office was side-board and a ticker. Yet all these things exist.

Mailed Flat
"It was a velvet hand rather than a mailed fist that inscribed all so-called adverse legislation on the statute books. Yet the legislature of Wisconsin was held up to ridicule by a paid insurance press for its enactment of the life insurance tax law, but no word was said to the justifiable reasons which prompted the passage of the act, and it is only by fearfully calling attention to the grave and dangerous practices pursued by some companies, that we can hope for reform in the conduct of the business in the interest of the policy holders.

WILL SUPPRESS SWEAT SHOPS

State Labor Inspectors Begin Their Tour of Inspection of the State.

The members of the state labor bureau will this week take up the sweat shop question and although the inspectors say they have not found conditions in this respect as bad in Wisconsin as expected it is said there will probably be several arrests during the next ten days for violations of the anti-sweat shop law. The arrests are expected in Milwaukee.

There are Milwaukee manufacturers who are still employing children in their factories under vacation permits. Notices were served on these employees yesterday morning, and the children thus employed must at once leave the factories. If these notices are not obeyed arrests will follow in the near future.

The first investigations of conditions attendant upon women working in this state by Miss Edessa Knutz the recently appointed woman factory inspector, will be made in Milwaukee and Miss Knutz will put the greater portion of her time during the next few months investigating conditions in Milwaukee.

Recent reports of factory inspectors in Illinois show that the state is suffering under the same conditions in regard to the employment of minors in factories that existed here before the passage of the child labor law as regards the employment of children under perjured affidavits, Wisconsin inspectors say that the new child labor law is by all means the most effective legislation in the west to prevent the employment of child labor.

It empties directly into the blower and greatly facilitates the work. The store-house above the heaters has a capacity of about 500 buckets. Owing to the slippery tracks during the rainy season which this section of the country has been blessed with of late, the store-house was depleted of its contents in one week. George Harcastle, of Mineral Point who was in charge today, says that ordinarily it is only necessary to fill the store-house once in two weeks. The sand is heated until the heaters are red hot. FOR A MISSION AT UNIVERSITY

Episcopal Diocese May Establish One in Madison—Ruger Is Honored.

The establishing of an Episcopal mission at the University of Wisconsin, where students may attend, was advocated at the evening session of the fifty-sixth annual council of the diocese of Milwaukee held last night in Milwaukee, when in answer to a question, "What Shall We Do With Madison," by Bishop Nicholson, the Rev. G. S. Sinclair of Oconomowoc explained the necessity of such an institution. He was followed by Walter C. Noe of Madison who in the absence of Dr. John Kelly of Grace church, Madison, told of the condition of affairs there.

"Students who have been raised in the church," he said, "are apt to drop into careless habits regarding the attending to religious duties while at the university and I would suggest that a college priest be appointed by the diocese to work among the students at Madison, to get in touch with them and know their interests and get them into the church."

Christian Spirit Not Lacking
Herbert N. Laffin, on behalf of the university students, said that although an atmosphere of materialism did prevail at the institution, that a large number of the students attended church and the appointment of a priest, he said, would facilitate the matter and develop a church spirit. He referred to the Rev. Updike of the Congregational church at Madison, whose congregations contained a large number of students and he urged this showed that Christian spirit was not lacking. The subject aroused much attention on the part of the delegates present and it will probably come up for definite action at today's meeting.

Ruger Honored
William Ruger was again chosen chancellor of the Diocese and Rev. H. H. Barrington was placed on the endowment fund committee. Another subject discussed yesterday was the changing of the name of the church and a vote was taken this morning to find the sentiment. Insurance was also talked of and the bishop urged that a fund be established similar to that which railway companies have for their protection.

ENJOIN BARKING OF THAT DOG

Citizens Bothered by Their Neighbors, Have Precedent to Follow.

If any Janesville resident sits up nights or tosses in his downy couch because either his neighbor's dog or some vagrant beast bays the at the moon or howls out of pure loneliness, all he has to do is to go to some judge and secure an injunction prohibiting the dog from barking and doubtless the dog will stop. That is the injunction which will be issued if the judge is of the same opinion as the Tennessee justice who recently issued an injunction prohibiting a liveryman's dog from barking at night because a neighbor's wife's sister could not sleep while he did.

VARIETY SQUAD FOR FOOTBALL

New Material at the University Is Being Worked Out Well by the Coaches.

While none of last year's team, with the exception of Joe Fogg, reported for work at the university last week, there were twenty-five candidates out each day under Coach Curtis and Assistant Coach McCarthy. Most of them are having their first appearance on a variety football squad. The regulars will all report this week and the hard work begun.

Despite the fact that they are green, there has never been so much promising new material on the campus. As early as last Wednesday a team was organized and formation work begun with men who have never played in a big variety game. Simple plays were run through and the men drilled in the rudiments of the game. Coach Curtis is reported to have been working the men hard, but this probably originated from one of the new members of the squad, as older men, say that the drill is no harder than in former years.

The team has been made up as follows: Larish, center; Millman, Price, guards; Findlay, Thompson, tackle; Zuppke, Fitzgerald, ends; Schriber, quarter; Bain, Jones, Wabetz, halves; Robinson, Perry, full. Larish, center, looks good for the place. He weighs 210 at present. Millman was subguard last year, while Price, tackle, is a big man and promising. Findlay was subend last year. Cecil Schriber, brother of the former guard, is working well at quarter, while all the back field, Bain, the Indian, especially, is doing good work.

Before the week is ended all the old men who will be in school this year will be back for work and the real strenuous practice begun. Fogg, Abbott, Vanderboom, Bertke and Bush will be the nucleus about which the team will be built.

It is thought at Madison and among western football men that the new rules will be of less detriment to Wisconsin than any other college. Kling is a great advocate and teacher of the open style of play which Wisconsin teams have followed since they became factors in western football. There have always been seven men in the line, and while a few new formations have been tried in late years, straight football has always been the strongest feature of Wisconsin's play. This was never shown to better advantage than two years ago when Wisconsin defeated Minnesota.

Town Talks.

A well known city official who roomed at one of the residences on South Main street has been under the closest surveillance of his friends for some days past. He has been proceeding with the greatest caution and had not the most remote idea in the world that anybody was watching him. Every day or so he took some articles of wearing apparel, or otherwise, from his room, saying to his room mate, who happened to be around at the most unexpected moments: "I guess I'll take this to the office."

Now the room mate, as well as the other companions in the residence we have mentioned, had tracked the aforesaid city official and his bundles to a little house on Terrace Ave. which he had furnished for his bride. The wedding occurred last evening now his companions have sworn vengeance and are keeping the city for skeleton keys, to give him a proper reception on his home coming.

1000 CLAIMS

Equal Not a Single Faci.—Janesville
Endorsement Makes This Claim a Fact.

Endorsed by scores of Janesville's citizens who cheerfully make a public statement of their experience, is proof we have to back our claims that Doan's Kidney Pills cure every form of kidney ills, from a common back-ache to serious urinary disorders. Here is one local example. We have many more like it.

Mr. H. W. Rodgers, carpenter of 210 South Main street says: "My wife had kidney complaint and rheumatism for five years suffering a great deal from pain across the joints. Doan's Kidney Pills, sold by the People's Drug Co., brought much longed for and gratifying results. First there was no visible change and they were like all other remedies she had tried but finally the aching and the distress in the small of the back disappeared."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for U. S.

Remember the name Doan's—take no other.

Dokato trip Friday night and reports a pleasant time. Judging from his looks the country agreed with his health. He also brought home some samples of potatoes, apples, corn and the different kinds of grain that is raised out west. The corn and oats that he brought are extra good and we think it is a good sample of wheat that the western soil can produce.

He has the different samples on exhibition, anyone wishing to see them are invited to call at his home.

School began last Monday with Miss Gray as teacher. The school house has been undergoing some needed repairs; also has been nicely painted much credit is due to the young man who did the job.

The sewing circle met at the home of Mrs. Chas. Hunt, Thursday afternoon, at the close of the meeting the ladies were invited into the dining room, where an elegant supper was served which spoke well for the hostess. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Chas. Hackbrock's, Thursday afternoon, Sept. 24th, which all are invited to attend.

Mrs. S. Madden of Edgerton, and Mrs. J. Madden of the same place, Miss Elta and Kate, of Hanerville, Mr. Will Martin, Peter, Herbert and Daniel, all of Hanerville.

Servants were conducted by Father Harlin, of Edgerton, interment in Porter Catholic cemetery. Mr. Keegan was of a bright, sunny disposition, much loved and respected by all who knew him. He was also a soldier of the war in 60 and 61.

As silently the mystic light had faded of his gloom.

While slowly onward sadly we were going toward the tomb.

For the angel death had given forth a summons and a call.

And around his fragile form wrapt a deep black mourning pall.

A cross with God's own image, was in his hands most dear.

A flag, a soldier's emblem, to him lay very near.

He fought his battle bravely, and conquered over sin.

And may his soul find a sweet rest, forever more, Amen.

He Is After Jeff.

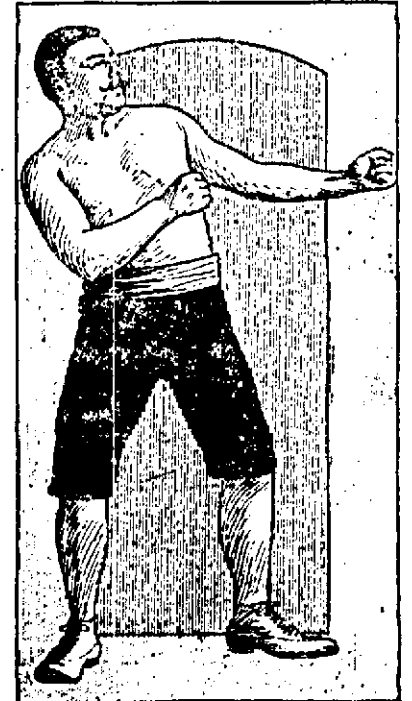

Placke, Holland's Ambitious
Heavy Weight Champion.
Will Munroe Make Good?

H. J. J. Placke, the champion heavy weight pugilist of Holland, is a man with ambition. He wants to fight Jim Jeffries for the world's championship, and Billy Delaney, Jeff's manager, is now considering the foreigner's offer.

Placke is a giant in stature, measuring 6 feet 5½ inches and weighing 220 pounds when in condition. He is credited with being an all around athlete of great ability.

Jeffries has already declared he will take Placke on if he can show he means business. Bob Fitzsimmons, so it is said, refused to meet Placke after the latter had cabled a challenge to this country to fight him for the world's championship.

It looks as if Jeffries and Jack Munroe, the minor-boxer, will go together in Los Angeles. Jeffries wants revenge for the indignities heaped upon him at Butte. He has already signed articles to fight Munroe twenty rounds at the Century Athletic club, Los Angeles, on Oct. 10, for 65 per cent of the gross receipts, the contestants to divide on a percentage to be determined by them. It is now up to Munroe to make good his boast that he can do the champion.

H. J. J. PLACKE, HOLLAND'S CHAMPION PUGILIST.

There isn't any question in regard to the things the champion will do to Munroe if the opportunity offers. The only professional courtesies the gentleman from Montana may expect are swings and wallops. Will he be able to stand enough of the heroic treatment to imbue the crowd with the feeling that it has had a run for its money?

In San Francisco, where Munroe is remembered as an amateur boxer and footballer, he is not taken seriously. That is why the clubs there ridiculed the proposition when a match between Jeffries and Munroe was suggested after the recent championship affair.

Munroe is very angry at some remarks Jeff has made, in which the minor is described as being afraid of the champion.

"Fight Jeffries, will I? Well, I'd rather do that than eat a dinner," the minor says, "and that $10,000 that he offers, why, it's like finding money. I'm afraid Jeffries doesn't mean it, but I'll tell you what I will do with him. I will give him $1,000 as a present to sign articles for a fight, and then I will bet him $5,000 on the side."

"What's the use of that, Jack? Why not fight him for the $10,000 and be satisfied with that?" some one asked.

"Why, it's a cinch, and I want to make as much as possible out of it," the minor replied. "Jeffries can't knock me out in twenty rounds. He didn't do it in Butte, but instead came near being licked himself. I put him down then and had him like a drunken man. And then he says he wasn't in shape."

"I know for a fact that he was in shape and had been tramping in gymnasiums along the route of his show."

"Put me out in four rounds? Why, he hasn't a chance. And I can get the money to back up what I say."

GLASS CAGE FOR ATHLETES

Yale Men to Have Place to Practice Regardless of Elements.

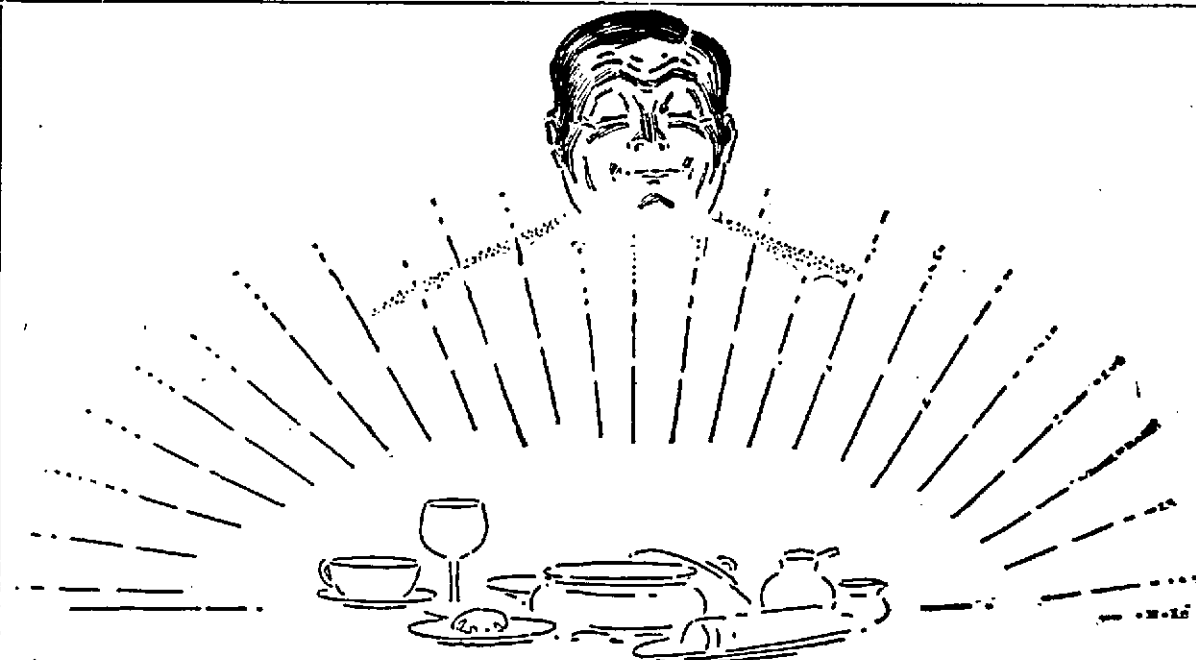

According to present plans, Yale will construct a huge glass house in which her athletes will practice during the winter months when snow and cold make out of door work impossible. It is planned to construct a roof over a lot near the Yale gymnasium which will be forty feet from the grounds and 200 by 220 feet in length and width.

Under this glass roof there will be laid out a baseball diamond and a first class running track. It is probable that the football men will also continue to use it when the weather keeps them from going out to the field. The glass roof will be protected by a wire netting that will be stretched out a few feet below it. It is expected that the improvement will cost $50,000.

UNBOUNDED FAITH IN MI-ONA

The People's Drug Co. and King's Pharmacy Will Refund Money if It Fails to Increase Flesh and Cure Dyspepsia.

The People's Drug Co. and King's Pharmacy have been in the drug business long enough to know that there are very few remedies that can be sold on a guarantee to refund the money if they do not give satisfaction.

They have sold so much Mi-on-a and seen such remarkable results following its use that they welcome the chance to convince any doubter of its merit, by offering to give with each package of Mi-on-a a written guarantee to refund the money if it does not give an increase in weight, regulate the digestion and restore health.

If you cannot call at their store, send them the price of Mi-on-a, 50c by mail and they will forward you a regular size box, postage paid, with the same agreement to refund the money if it does not give perfect satisfaction.

Any one who has been losing flesh or has always been too thin, should use Mi-on-a. Thinness and scrawiness are signs that the food is not properly assimilated and that you do not get the nourishment from it that you should.

Mi-on-a mingles with the food you eat, aids its assimilation, tones up and strengthens the digestive organs and puts the whole system in a proper physical condition. Remember that you risk nothing in buying Mi-on-a. If it fails to give you the desired effect, the cost is trifling. If it fails, they will pay for the remedy.
